

REPORT OF RECORDS COMMITTEE

ROBERT M. STANLEY, Chairman.

A GAIN the majority of the applicants for gliding and soaring certificates are members of the armed forces. It is heartening to note that the army glider pilots in the combat zones have sufficient interest in soaring to make "C" attempts in the CG4A military glider. Six of them have succeeded.

During the last year 22 pilots satisfactorily completed all requirements and were awarded "C" certificates, and 10 pilots won their "B" certificates.

In the past twelve months two more pilots, Herman J. Stiglmeier and James A. Simpson, were awarded the Silver "C". We now have a total of 46 fully accredited high performance soaring pilots. This is not all the progress we have to report this year, for Silver "C" altitude legs were turned in by Richard V. Lyon and Robert F. Blaine, and Golden "C" altitude was achieved by Harold W. Huber.

Clearly, our sport is weathering the difficulties of the times in which we live.
